

SERVICE SIMPLIFIED

Remote support for 100% Inspection

Introducing: A&D READY, Remote support

A&D's remote support options will keep you up and running day or night. An A&D technician can log into your system with your permission and help you with new product setup or adjustment and sort through the problems to get your operations running smoothly. When a remote session is initiated our technicians see exactly what you see which reduces the need to troubleshoot highly technical issues on phone calls. Your time is valuable, let us help you maximize it through our remote offering.

Features:

- If your machine is networked, just give us access and we can do the rest
- Product setup and machine learning via the web
- Data review
- System diagnostic checks
- Compliance checks
- You can monitor your machines from your office or from other plants
- Support with new extended hours, putting the customer first

A&D READY Available on the Following Products:

X-Ray

Metal Detector

Checkweigher

Visit us at andinspection.com